New Westminster Interceptor - Columbia Section

Metro Vancouver will be conducting inspection work as part of required maintenance on the New Westminster Interceptor that moves wastewater from Burnaby and New Westminster to the Annacis Island Wastewater Treatment Plant. Crews will temporarily access maintenance holes along Columbia Street to inspect recently completed sewer upgrades. Work will take place at night to minimize impacts to residents and traffic. Traffic control personnel will be on site to guide vehicles, pedestrians and cyclists around each work area.

Work Activities and Impacts:

- Work and noise outside of standard hours
- Crews and vehicles in the area
- Temporary minor traffic impacts

Location: Along Columbia Street between Albert Crescent Park and the western intersection with Front Street.

Date: October 1st for approximately three days

Work Hours: Between 9:00 pm and 7:00 am

Drivers are asked to follow the direction of signage and traffic control personnel. Crews will make efforts to reduce impacts to local residents wherever possible. All work will comply with City of New Westminster bylaws or granted bylaw variances.
