Proposed Infill Townhouse Project at 337 & 339 Keary Street, New Westminster

We have submitted rezoning and development permit applications to build 8 infill townhouses. The proposed townhouse design is consistent with the Official Community Plan land use designation (Residential - Ground Oriented Infill Housing) and in keeping with the Infill Townhouses and Rowhouses Development Permit Area design guidelines. The property will be rezoned to a site-specific Comprehensive Development (CD) zone.

We are committed to proactively working with the City and licensed professionals to build quality homes that meet or exceed the requirements of the current building code and City bylaws.

School lunch program faces steep rise in costs

Julie MacLellan
 jmaclellan@newwestrecord.ca

Costs for the New Westminster school district's lunch program are twice as high as it budgeted for – but the school board is committed to keeping the program going.

The district works with Simply Foods to offer daily lunches in all elementary and middle schools through its Fuel Up program.

Families receive a monthly menu featuring a different selection of hot and cold options each day, and they can opt in to as many lunches as they choose. Full and partial subsidies are available when needed, but the majority of families pay full price for the meals – with 25 cents from the price of a small entrée and 50 cents from the price of a large entrée going towards the cost of subsidies.

The goal is to provide stigma-free meals for everyone; students in a classroom don't know whose meals are subsidized and whose aren't.

Over the past year, the district has seen a big increase in the number of families ordering meals – but the increase in full-price meals hasn't been enough to cover the increase in subsidized orders.

"We're seeing a real increase in what this program is costing us," said Tanis Anderson, the district's vice-principal of early learning, during a presentation to the school board's education committee on Jan. 18.

In 2020, the district paid out $10,839 in October, $11,292 in November and $7,541 in December for subsidized meals. In the same months, families ordering full-price meals paid $1,005, $831 and $320, respectively, towards subsidies.

By 2021, the district's costs were up to $18,468 in October, $22,151 in November and $14,751 in December. Family subsidies contributed $1,408, $1,531 and $1,167 in the same months.

B.C. Dairy also offers free dairy products for children receiving a subsidized lunch and reduced prices for everyone else on milk, milk alternatives, yogurt cups and parfaits.

Anderson said school staff make sure families who need the program get connected to it.

"Schools are so much more than these 9-to-3 buildings. These are community hubs; they do so much more than just educate the child," she said. "We know that when kids are fed, they're better able to regulate their behaviour, they're better able to focus, they're having less issues on the playground. ... It's just so important."

Trustee Anita Ansari said that, for some working parents, the program is a convenience when it comes to lunch planning – but, for others, it's a necessity.

"Our community is really having a tough go around food security," Ansari said. "(The lunch program) is getting some of our families through this pandemic."

School board chair Gurveen Dhaliwal said the program has become increasingly important as more families in the city are struggling.

"It really was the intent of the program that no to help offset the program costs.

Secretary-treasurer Bettina Ketcham said costs for the meal program come out of the CommunityLINK funding the district gets from the province for a variety of programs to support vulnerable students.

This year, she said, the district set aside about $100,000 of that money for the meal program, based on costs of about $10,000 a month. Now, she said, it looks like actual spending will be closer to $200,000 – which means the district's general operating budget will have to pick up the rest.

"In future years, the board will have to make some difficult decisions," Ketcham said, adding the district will need to find "efficiencies" in other areas to cover those costs.

Hi Monica,

I was just informed by Personal Information Removed that the email address for your association has changed. I'm resending the email I sent last week regarding our Development Permit application below. Please advise if I can send the finalized neighbourhood notification postcard, signage and newspaper ad to this email address.

Thanks!

Hi Lisa,

Thank you on behalf of the Sapperton RA for reaching out to us about your project.

At this time all of our meetings are virtual so we would be unable to share postcards, signage or newspaper postings with our membership; in normal times you would be able to distribute the postcards at the door.

From following the email thread it looks like you may be holding a virtual open house in the near future; if you'd like we can post details about that open house on our Facebook feed and via Twitter on your behalf after you send us the details.

We do have a meeting coming up on February 9th and will be having an executive meeting on the 2nd to set the agenda. I'm not certain if you have a short (10- 15 minutes) presentation ready, or if we would be able to add you to this upcoming meeting's agenda due to time constraints from other agenda items (we'd decide that on the 2nd). If your virtual open house is occurring after the 9th of February we can certainly alert our membership to the date and details by including the information on the agenda which is sent to the membership a few days before our meeting, and during the meeting if we can't allocate time for a presentation. You could then attend the next meeting which is April 13th.

Hi Anita,

Thank you so much for your response. Our virtual open house is scheduled for Monday, Feb 7th from 4:30 - 6:30. Here is the link to the project website... Sappertonliving.com

Since we already sent 350 postcards to residents in the area, I don't want to bother you to post on social media. There will be a public hearing coming up in March so I can notify you of that once the date is confirmed.

Thanks again for your support on our project and look forward to working together to build an inclusive, vibrant community!
